The Council of Ministers met this Wednesday, March 9th, 2016, at the Government Palace in Dili, and approved:

1. Draft Law on the Social Welfare Contributory Framework

This Draft Law presented by the Ministry of Social Solidarity, establishes a social welfare contributory framework, as provided for under the Constitution of the Republic, which aims to protect workers and their families in situations such as maternity, paternity, adoption, old age, disability and death. This framework will be applied gradually to all workers in all sectors.

Since 2008, the Government has developed a set of programmes and social protection measures, based on its commitment to the right of citizens to Social Security and social assistance, namely, the pension for the elderly and the disabled, the transitional Welfare scheme in old age, disability and death for civil servants, maternity and paternity leave, Bolsa da Mãe and the funeral transport service.

In 2010, the Council of Ministers approved the establishment of the Working Group for the Study and Design of the Welfare Scheme set up to present "concrete proposals to create a contributory and definitive Welfare Scheme, based on a distribution model, with the possibility of establishing complementary schemes". Subsequently several proposals were put forward at the meetings of the Council of Ministers of August 4th, 2010 and April 13th, 2011.

In 2011, the Government approved the Draft Law on the Transitional Welfare Scheme, funded by the General State Budget and exclusively for civil servants. This draft law defined the principles and the major options for a general Social Security scheme for the country. The Law was approved by the National Parliament in February 2012.
